

List of Grants for Schools

Local supermarkets

Supermarkets often participate in community fundraising that may support funding for equipment or running expenses of a breakfast program.

Coles is involved with many communities, supporting sports clubs and schools where help is needed.

Food4Schools

Food4Schools is an initiative that can provide fruit to schools and communities for the purpose of fundraising. Food is delivered directly from local producers, so the food is low cost. Foods can be delivered and used to raise money for the school, yielding around a 20 per cent profit from the total cost of the produce.

Telstra Foundation

The Telstra Foundation runs two funding programs, the Telstra Foundation Community Development Fund, and Telstra's Kids fund. Telstra's Kids Fund provides grants of $1200 to a broad range of initiatives and projects, including sports, education, environment and social issues. To apply for a grant, a Telstra Group Employee who is immediately related to a child involved in the program must apply and the organisation must be not-for-profit. A breakfast program would fit the criteria.
